

What type of Leadership Animal are you??

Directions: Find your animal by matching your most answered letter with the boxes below. Once you find your letter and animal read the description of what type of leader you are!!

A-Shark  Authoritative-- The leader identifies a problem, considers alternative solutions, chooses one of them, and then tells others what they are to do. The leader may or may not consider what the group members will think or feel about the decision, but group members clearly do not participate directly in the decision-making. Coercion may or may not be used or implied.	D- Teddy Bear  Participative--The leader here gives the group members a chance to influence the decision from the beginning. Problems and relevant background information are presented, and then the members are asked for their ideas. In effect, the group is invited to increase the number of alternative actions to be considered. The leader then selects the solution he/she regards as most promising.
B-Fox  Political-- The leader, as before, makes the decision without consulting the group. However, instead of simply announcing the decision, he/she tries to persuade the group members to accept it. The leader points out how he/she has considered organization goals and the interest of group members and states how the member will benefit from carrying out the decision.	E-Turtle  Laissez-faire-- The leader here participates in the discussion as "just another member"--and agrees in advance to carry out whatever decision the group makes. The only limits placed on the group are those given to the leader by his superiors. This type of leader is very hands off however they are very group centered.
C-Owl  Evaluative-- The leader identifies a problem and proposes a tentative solution. Before finalizing it, however, he/she gets the reactions of those who will implement it. The leader says, in effect, "I'd like your frank reactions to this proposal, and I will then make the final decision."
